THERAPEUTIC AND RECREATIONAL RIDING CENTER, INC.

TRRC Fire Evacuation Procedure

THE BOTTOM PORTION MUST BE SIGNED and RETURNED TO TRRC!

When the FIRE ALARM sounds:

- All participants and family members must immediately and orderly exit the Rider Support Building, stalls or arena and proceed to the flag court at the top of the hill. Delay in exiting the building could interfere with trained staff assisting riders needing support, and the horses.
- Exit the building at the nearest EXIT (marked with the red EXIT sign and a spot light).
- All participants on the trails will dismount and remain in radio contact to await further instruction.
- Do NOT return into any building, stall or arena again for ANY REASON.
- A senior staff member has been assigned to sweep the building and assure that every single person is out of the building and all rooms are vacated. Once the building has been checked, the staff will be able to assist with the horses.
- Do NOT go into any of the riding arenas or stalls to help the staff, or to retrieve participants or horses. The staff has been trained on the proper emergency evacuation procedures and will join family members at the flag court.
 NO HORSES WILL BE RESCUED UNTIL ALL PEOPLE ARE SECURED SAFELY.
- Do NOT attempt to assist with the horses. They could become very unpredictable and dangerous with all of the activity, noise and smells. Allow only trained staff members to work with the horses.
- Do NOT drive away from TRRC when the fire alarm sounds even if you have your participant. Moving vehicles will add to the confusion and are too dangerous with all of the movement of people and horses.
- All vehicles and debris must stay clear of the fire lanes and driveway to allow access by Emergency Vehicles.
- Once the "All Clear" is given, staff, participants, and family members can proceed back to the buildings for normal operations.

Thank you for following these life-saving procedures to assure the safety of our loved ones, both human and animal.
